

10

REASONS

YOU COULD be a

Recruiter

...and not even know it

YOU ARE A PEOPLE PERSON

This might sound clichéd but yes, you love working with people. In recruiting, that enjoyment is a must. We work with clients, candidates, colleagues and the community on a daily basis.

People are literally our business.

I 'm a people person!

Wow, and to think all this time you thought you were a cat person!

2

slam of determination

YOU ARE DETERMINED

No one is completely fearless and life is anything but a smooth ride, but because you love being in the driver's seat and making a difference, you can move past the challenges that might come your way.

3 YOU ARE CURIOUS AND CREATIVE

The perfect combination. If you love coming up with your own ideas and feel you have a creative approach to problem and solution solving, then call us...maybe?

4

you trust your intuition

There is always a level of intuition and gut feeling that is used in business. Yours has served you well in the past and you trust it to guide you when you need it.

5 YOU ARE CONFIDENT

You know what you're capable of and you know who you are. Your confidence allows you to make meaningful connections and important decisions. You don't get intimidated easily.

*I really like how Outlook keeps track of my life
for me.*

*It's nice to know that someone out there
seems to really get me.*

6

you love

ORG
A
NI
ZAT
ION

Time management
is your middle name.

Recruiting is a fast paced business
with multiple priorities and your love
of organization and skills with managing your time will be a nice fit with us.

7

COMMON SENSE

Sometimes common sense doesn't seem all that...common.

We can take this for granted but common sense is an important aspect of business.

You can see the details, from small to large but you also know that if you can't solve something on your own, common sense dictates reaching out to get help from others.

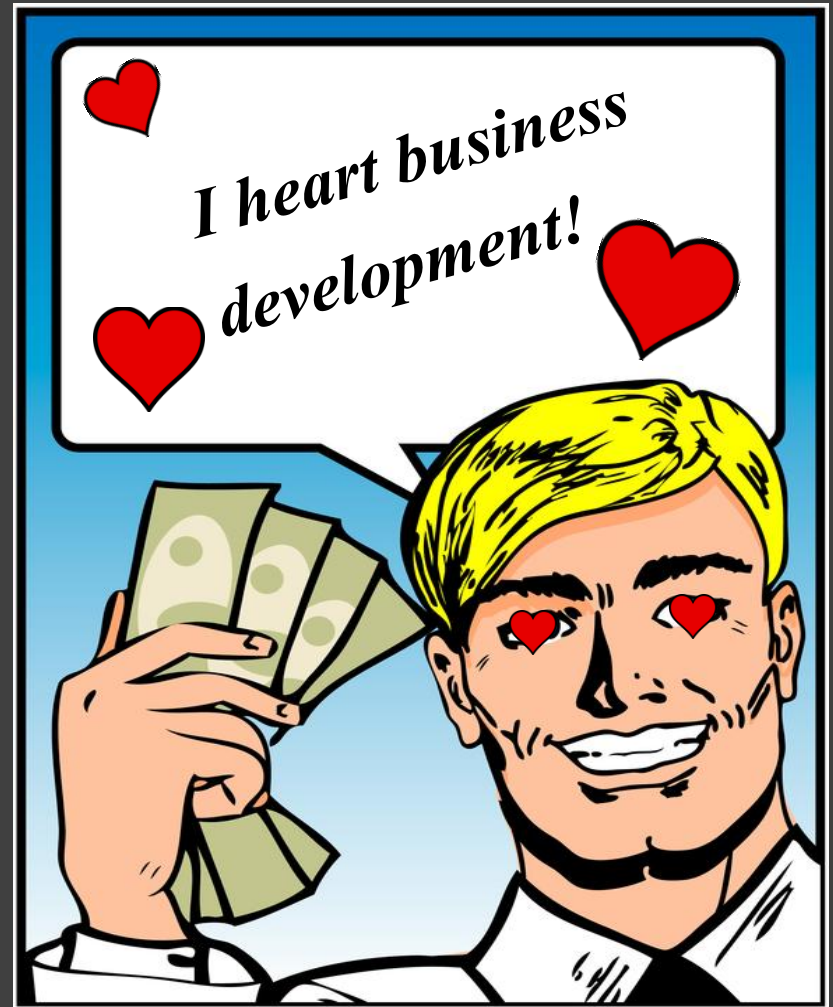

8 YOU LOVE

Recruiting firms are typically sales environments so if you love sales and building relationships then recruiting could be for you.

Recruiters are skilled at business development and building client partnerships. We listen closely to what our client's needs really are.

You understand how business operates and what it takes to make (and keep) a business successful. P&L, budgets, staff, operations...you know how the dots connect and love connecting them for others.

You've got a knack for business

10

You really dig networking and building relationships

You already are a people person, so building relationships, getting out in the business community and talking to people is just something you do naturally.

★ IF YOU'VE IDENTIFIED WITH ALL 10
THEN YOU COULD BE WHAT WE ARE LOOKING FOR IN A RECRUITER ★

get in touch to find out more about a recruiting career with us, our team and why we love what we do so much.

PEOPLE FIRST

RECRUITING

www.peoplefirsthr.com 204.940.3983
recruiting@peoplefirsthr.com

EXPERIENCE THE BENEFITS OF PEOPLE

Right now we are only recruiting in Winnipeg, Manitoba, but with plans to expand, you never know when we could be looking in other provinces.